Sandi Levin, Editor

President's (Outgoing) Message

What a wonderful year 2006 has been for the Friends of the Library! I'd like to take this opportunity to summarize our accomplishments. At the onset of the year, we set several goals, and achieved them all! These included increasing public awareness of the Friends, building membership, raising money to enable the Library to better serve our community, and putting on educational programs for the entire community to enjoy.

Our success would not have been possible without the participation of so many people and some special thank you's are in order. I'd like to thank the 2006 Executive Board, a group of creative, hardworking, and dedicated volunteers, Community Library Manager Laura Frakes and her staff, and the Culver City City Council and City staff members for their ongoing support. Special thanks to the Culver City Fire Department, whose unique involvement with the Friends in 2006 really stands out. And, of course, we thank all the businesses, organizations, Friends of the Library members, and community members who volunteered their time and services, donated money, and participated in our activities.

Over the past year, we developed new programs and continued several of our existing ones. Thanks to Phil Simmons of Laing Urban and his team for sponsoring our new BRICC (Building Readers in Culver City) program. We continued our "Get Caught Reading" program where different, influential people "got caught reading" each month. We saw the 2nd annual Culver City Reads program where the community read Peter Pan and we held a series of exciting activities and events revolving around this classic book. By all measures, this program was a huge success and we raised over $25,000! We also got the entire community involved in writing a book – a Cookbook! This "Treasure Chest of Recipes" is a must-have! We continued to maintain a strong internet presence; thanks to Alan Corlin for managing our fantastic website. We increased our involvement with local groups, making several donations of needed books to the Culver City Senior Center, the Brotman Medical Center, the Brentwood Veterans Affairs Medical Center, and local shelters for battered women and abused children. We continued our monthly Saturday afternoon programs and Tuesday story time/craft hours, quarterly book sales and many other activities.

Having served as President of this organization for the past two years, I'm thrilled to pass on the gavel to incoming President Alan Corlin and thank him for stepping up from Vice President to take on this challenging position. Several of our other existing Board members will continue to serve. Lauren Mead will continue as Secretary, Sandi Levin as Publications Chair, and Wayne Pulliam as Book Sale Chair. Several new faces on the Board, although not new to the Friends, will include Kevin Commins as Vice President, Gayle Smashey as Treasurer, and John and Nancy Kuechle as co-chairs of Membership. The position of Programs Chair is yet to be filled. If you are interested, please contact Alan Corlin. Special thanks to outgoing Board members Elaine Hirohama who served as Programs Chair, Dr. Janet Hoult as Membership Chair, and Karen Maggio as Treasurer. We hope you'll all stay involved!

Our annual membership meeting/installation dinner will be held on January 30th and I welcome you to join us. This will be a fun event and a time to thank our outgoing Board members, welcome our new Board members, and formally recognize some special people for their significant contributions to the Friends in 2006. In addition to the dinner, an exciting series of events and activities is planned for the coming quarter.

On a personal note, I want to thank everyone for your tremendous support over the past two years. I have been touched by the number of calls and emails I have received expressing appreciation for the work I have done as President. I step down confident that the Friends' will continue to grow and improve. It has been a true privilege to serve as President of the Friends, I treasure the opportunities I had to work with so many of you, and I look forward to working together with the incoming Board to continue to promote reading, education and literacy in our community. I wish everyone a very happy holiday season and all the best in the New Year!

Dr. Sharon Zeitlin, President, Culver City Friends of the Library

Get Ready for Culver City Reads 2007

The Friends are looking for your suggestions for the next Culver City Reads book selection. It's time to start planning Culver City Reads 2007!

Culver City Reads is a community-wide reading celebration that encourages people of all ages throughout Culver City to read a very special book together and participate in a series of events and activities that take place over the summer months. It is designed to broaden one's appreciation of reading, to stimulate discussions among friends and family, and to promote understanding of other people's viewpoints.

In 2005, the Friends "kicked off" this program with the book "The Wizard of Oz" and the program was so successful it was featured on the front page of the Culver City News nearly every week throughout the summer. In 2006, everyone read "Peter Pan," the timeless story of adventure and magic by J.M. Barrie. The Schedule of Events was phenomenal, full of pixies, pirates and possibilities, and well-attended throughout! It culminated with an "Under the Stars" screening of the family film Peter Pan at Veterans Park. Through these events, the Friends strive to show children and adults alike how books can come alive.

What book would you like to see the community read in 2007? Phone, write or email your suggestions to the Culver City Friends of the Library, 4975 Overland Ave., Culver City, CA 90230, www.ccfol.org, and (310) 559-1676.

What takes more hits than an over-the-hill boxer? What gets more requests than an Elvis impersonator? If you answered the Culver City Friends of the Library website, you were correct! Since its inception on November 6, 2005 the CCFOL site has had over 456,000 requests. Over 7,900 distinct hosts were served and more than 13 Gigabytes of data have been transferred from the website to other computers.

Face it: people like to see themselves doing fun things. Have you looked at the latest Santa Claus pictures under the "Past Events" button? Santa Claus at the Library 12-16-2006. Make sure you have your speakers turned on when you do. Have you clicked on the Peter Pan and Friends at the Fire Station and Culver Hotel 8-12-2006 link yet? The CCFOL brings exciting interactive afternoon events to the library. Native American Indian Event at the Library 11-18-2006 is just one example.

The web site is just one exciting part of the CCFOL. The web site has had a lot of attention because you have given the CCFOL your time and energy. If you have ideas or suggestions, please contact me at ad747@lafn.org and let me know how we can work together to make the site even better.

Wayne Pulliam and Steven Wieber, with the assistance of the Library staff, have been doing an outstanding job of keeping the shelves stocked and the room organized. However, with the number of donations we receive, we need additional assistance.

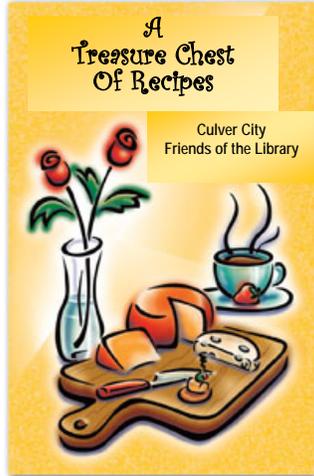

If you are interested, please contact Wayne at 310-559-1676 or info@ccfol.org.

What the Friends Have Been Up To...

What's Cooking in Culver City?

The Culver City Friends of the Library recently took on the exciting task of preparing a cookbook that we've entitled "A Treasure Chest of Recipes." The cookbook features 250 favorite recipes, is beautifully illustrated, easy-to-read, professionally printed and bound, and sure to be treasured for years.

Sincere thanks to everyone who contributed a treasured recipe for this cookbook. The Friends of the Library strives to get everyone involved in the Library and we are so pleased that this "Community Cookbook" project truly reflects the involvement of the residents of the Culver City community at large, including their family and friends. Contributors include current and former members of the Culver City City Council, School Board and other elected offices, as well as City Commissioners, City employees, business leaders, local chefs, library staff, members of the Culver City Friends of the Library and many other civic organizations.

To give you a "flavor" for some of the recipes in the book, I'd like to highlight a few of the recipes that our City staff members contributed and thank them for their creativity in tying in their recipes with their work. For example, Police Chief Don Pedersen contributed a recipe for Felony Fudge, City Attorney Carol Schwab contributed a recipe for a Torte, Transportation Director Steve Cunningham's recipe for Natural Gas Chili demonstrates his commitment to alternative fuels, Public Works Director Charles Herbertson contributed his special recipe for Pump House Stew, and Director of Parks, Recreation and Community Services Bill LaPointe contributed his recipe for Home Run Hamburgers.

Other contributors include Robert Baum (the great-grandson of L. Frank Baum, the author of the Wizard of Oz), Janice Pober (Vice President Sony Pictures Entertainment), Patsy Flanigan (Flanigan Farms), Dr. Richard Corlin (former President of the American Medical Association), and restaurant owners and chefs Jennie Cook (Double Dutch), Jay Handal (San Gennaro's Café), and Matt Lyman (Tender Greens), and many more!

This one-of-a-kind cookbook is available for purchase for only $15 at the circulation desk of the Library or you can order your book via the Friends' website which is www.ccfol.org (add $5 for shipping). For those of you who pre-purchased the book, you can pick it up at the Library. All proceeds go directly to support the Library.

Special thanks to the cookbook committee: Sharon Zeitlin, Sandi Levin, Julie Lugo Cerra, Alan Corlin, Barbara Brody, Kevin Commins, Elaine Hirohama, and Michele Cerra Lachoff.
